TED LEWIS GOES STALE, IT APPEARS

regit It is literally for the betterment of the game from every conceivble angle. The main event performer a not entitled to one cent more than his share or percentage of the gross receipts, whatever that may amount to,
in other words, a boxer is not worth a cent more than he can draw. This inludes them all—from Pets Savoy to less Willard.

Jess Willard.

Approves Enforcing Discipline.

The effort to enforce discipline and to prevent boxers from stalling, is also descring of credit, and I think that the boxers should work in harmony with the officials of the association.

I also believe that the champions should be compelled to defend their titles every six months and that the new rules regarding the weights, should be enforced. The fans are entitled to such protection. A boxer should results that the fans are the ones who are paying for the up-keep of the game, and if they fail to please them, they are the ones that will suffer in the end. When a boxer displays his wares, and is honest with the fans, they are the inex to recognize the fact and give him encouragement.

Ted Lewis Sone Stale.

Ted Lewis Gone Stale.

Ted Lewis, the wonderfol clever Jewish boxer from England, who has been greatling furors in the east by his many victories, seems to have gone stale just at a time when he was beginning to reap the harvest for his splendid work. He was taken ill and the indications are that he will have to keep out of it for a few weeks. He was matched at Boston with Mike Giever, but since being taken ill, soldier Eartfield was substituted. Efforts are being made to bring Lewis out west against some of the good welterweights and if his recovery is speed; the changes are the western fans will have an opportunity to look him over.

Griffichs is a Star.

Ghic possesses one of the classiest lightweights in the country, but very little is heard of the young man these days. The star in question is Johnny Griffiths of Abron, O. There are few 135 pounders in the States who have anything on the Ghio lad, Freddy Weish included in the list, but for some reason Johnny has never been favored with a real classice at the lightweight crown. He has fought most of the stars in the division, but has not had the boosting that most of the topnotchers get. Griffiths has been getting a bit beavier of late and finds it hard to get below 135 pounds, but as the champion—Freddy Weish—insist on all matches at that weight, it suits the Ohio boy nicely.

It is evidently the intention of Mike Sibbons to retire from the roped arens.

He is evidently the intention of Mike Shbons to refire from the roped arens within the next year and endeavor to boost his brother Tommy into the piace accupied by himself as one of the star middleweights. The promoters at St. Faul were willing to substitute Tommy for Mike against Young ahearn and manager Dan McKetrick was willing to accept the change, but Mike no doubt considered Tommy was not quite ripe for the test and refused to O. K. it. Mike has intimated that he will engage in three or four more good matches and then retire. He will take the management of brother Tommy and match him against the stars of the land. In the meantime Mike is teaching Tommy all he knows about the game and coaching him in new angles, which he figures will be of benefit to him when he starts out as a title contender.
